

MARJOLEIN VERCRUYSSSEN

Dr. Marjolein Vercruyssen (Born 1982, Belgium), graduated as a dentist in 2005 at the Faculty of Medicine, University Ghent, Belgium. In 2008 she graduated as a periodontologist (EFP approved specialty program) at the department of Periodontology, KU Leuven, Belgium. After her graduation she combined the work in a private practice with a PhD-training at the department of Periodontology. She defended her PhD, titled "Clinical advantages of guided surgery" in 2015. At the moment she has her own private practice in Periodontology and Implant Therapy in Hoogstraten, Belgium. She presented (poster and oral presentations) at different national and international congresses (EAO, Europerio) and participated at the EAO consensus meeting 2015. She has different clinical and review publications in peer-reviewed journals on the subject of guided surgery.